License Number, Phone Calls Lead To Solution Of Week-Old Mystery

by Ralph Barney

BRIGHAM YOUNG University's old Y Bell is back in its accustomed place in the Smith Fieldhouse after nearly a week's absence.

Dean Wesley P Lloyd announced Saturday morning that confessions from persons involved in the disappearance indicated that all were members of a fraternity at the University of Utah.

He said that three people have been identified as having taken and that two more are expected to be implicated early this week.

First discovered missing after an article telling of its theft appeared in the Utah Daily Chronicle, University of Utah student newspaper, Wednesday, the bell was traced through a license number given to the Security Office by members of the BYU wrestling team who saw the trailer being towed toward Salt Lake City in Orem, Jan. 12.

THE CHRONICLE story, allegedly received in a phone call from Logan, reported the bell was taken during the afternoon of Jan. 12 from the fieldhouse in full view of 100 BYU students who were working out.

The bellnappers—who were identified by the Chronicle story as four U of U students—hitched the trailer to an automobile and headed for Salt Lake City.

BYU students reported seeing the bell in Provo Canyon near the steam plant turnoff and in Orem that afternoon.

Even though most of these people took the car make and model and license number of the auto, no reports of the disappearance of the bell or identification of the automobile was given school authorities until the story appeared in Friday's Daily Universe.

Captain E. L. Christensen, tracing the license number through California authorities, learned the automobile was not owned by a student of any of the three Utah universities.

A PHONE CALL by BYU authorities to the address listed on the automobile registration form in California established the fact that the driver of the automobile is not a student, but a man working in Salt Lake Ciy.

Captain Christensen went to Salt Lake City early Friday afternoon to assist Salt Lake City police in apprehending the owner of the automobile.

Meanwhile, however, a call was received by Dean Wesley P Lloyd, dean of students, saying that the persons who took the bell were on their way from Salt Lake City and bringing the bell back to BYU.

A SECURITY office official said Saturday morning that Capt. Christensen, unaware of the phone call, apprehended the driver of the automobile as it was leaving Salt Lake City, and followed it to Provo, arriving at about 7:30 Friday evening

University officials are planning to meet Monday to decide whether legal action will be taken against those involved.

SLC Youth Nabbed On BYU Campus For Vehicle Theft

A sixteen-year-old Salt Lake City youth was apprehended in a stolen car Thursday in front of the Brigham Young University Security office, according to Capt Leonard Christensen of the the security force.

The car, a blue and white 1956 Oldsmobile. belonging to Ybaldo M Martinez, Magna, was taken from in front of the Salt Lake City and County building at 11 a.m Thursday.

A BYU student was reporting having seen the stolen vehicle to Capt. Christensen when the car passed the office. Officer Matthews ran into the street to stop the car. When asked whom the car belonged to, the boy answered that he didn't know. The youth then ran across the campus toward the McKay building. Officer Sam Atoa and another student caught him.

The youth said that he drove to BYU because he "wanted to see what the campus looked like."

Monday Deadline For Petitions For Friday Bibler Bounce Fete

Tickets will go on sale Monday for the annual Bibler Bounce in the lobby of the Eyring Science Center, at 75 cents per couple.

Sponsored by the Daily Universe staff, the dance will be held Friday at 9:30 p. m. after the BYU-Utah State basketball game.

Three halls have been reserved for the event, the east gym of the Smith Fieldhouse, where the "Y's Men" band will play, the Social Hall, where the Collegians have been engaged to play, and the Smith Ballroom, where music will be by Jerry Hyde's band.

Because the dance comes after a basketball game, the administration has given permission to extend dorm hours for all campus residents until 1:30 a m. The dance will continue past the usual 11:30 p. m. deadline, and terminate at 12:30 a. m.

Winners of the Bibler cartoon character contest will be announced at the dance, and a scroll will be presented to each of the "lucky people."

Unique cartoon type decorations will be featured in all halls and refreshments will be served.

Farmers Hand Cougars Initial Skyline Loss

by Rich Hall

THE "NEMESIS of the Road" has finally caught up with Brigham Young University's cage squad But just barely Utah State lived up to its reputation as the conference spoilers Friday night when they edged the Cougars 76-75 at Logan.

The game was undecided all the way down to the final buzzer. BYU had led for most of the first half, and Utah State managed to stay out in front during the second period, with BYU closing the gap, then falling behind, then catching up again.

UP UNTIL the game with the Aggies the Cats were the only team in the conference that had not lost a game on the road. The Farmers ended that Friday.

The Logan giant killers, the only team around that has the enviable reputation of knocking off both Utah and BYU, played good, hard ball in winning the contest. However, the Cougars didn't exactly give the game away.

COACH STAN WATTS ran in ten players, five of them sophomores, and the first year men showed up well in the fray, a sign that bodes well for future BYU teams.

Guard Tom Steinke, the Cougars old faithful, fired through 24 points to take high point honors for the night. Steinke had hit for eight points in the first half, and came back in the second and started dropping them in from all over Cougar forward John Benson fouled out of the game with only five minutes gone in the second period, but he left the floor with 22 points, after having turned in a tremendous performance.

A demon on the boards, hitting consistently, and turning in a top floor game, Benson's loss definitely hurt the Cougar cause.

Minutes after Benson's expulsion from the game Utah State's Joe Lockyer, up to that time the most important man in the Aggie lineup, was invited to leave via the same route Benson took.

Lockyer had been the proverbial thorn in the Cougars side, sweeping the boards and hitting the baskets that kept the Farmers in the game during the first half.

WHEN LOCKYER left he had amassed a total of 19 points, which put him in a tie for high scoring honors for the Utags with Frank Polak, who also pumped 19 through the hoop before leaving the game due to an injury received in the closing minutes of the clash.

The game closed on a tension packed, heart-stopping note The Aggies had gone into their control game in the last part of the game, but BYU's amazing sophs had managed to slowly close the gap Finally, with ten seconds left, Farmer captain Ted Smith fouled Russ Peterson The Cat guard, playing his first year on the varsity, stepped to the foul line and dropped in the fi[illegible] sh[illegible] on the one and one count.
